Values Questionnaire

A Study of Identity in Adolescence

Hello and thank you for agreeing to take part in this research. The following questionnaires will be used for a study we conduct at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. We want to find out more about several issues regarding adolescents' attitudes and values.

For the purpose of participating in the research you should fill the questionnaire in as well as you can. The questionnaire is about you – there are no "right" or "wrong" answers. The questionnaire's aim will be achieved successfully if you describe yourself as accurately as possible. We want to clarify that you are not obligated to take part in the research. Moreover, if you feel uncomfortable with one or more of the questions, you don't have to answer them. If completing the questionnaire brings up issues for you that you feel a need to discuss, we suggest you speak to a counselor at your school.

The questionnaires are written in a male format for convenience, yet it is intended for both girls and boys. We ask for your forgiveness. The confidentiality of your answers will be kept fully!

Values Questionnaire: Please read the instructions carefully before you start

In the following pages you will see that the questionnaires are divided into two sections:

a. The table at the top of the page presents three statements. Tick the box that represents your opinion best. If you agree with the statement strongly, tick the box under the heading "Strongly Agree." If you do not agree with the statement at all, tick the box under the heading "Strongly Disagree". You can also tick the box that is somewhere in between, e.g. when you only agree to some extent. You can choose a square among all squares.

b. In the table at the bottom of the page you are to ask yourself: "What is important to ME in various aspects of MY life, and what is less important to me?". This questionnaire presents a list of sentences that describe certain characteristics. Your task is to rate how important each characteristic is for you in various aspects of your life. Tick the box to the right that shows how important the characteristic is for you.

Follow these instructions in all of the following pages.

Think of yourself in your home, and in your family. In the following page you will be requested to describe yourself as you are as a family member.

The Squares Game

We now present to you a game of puzzles with lots of squares with some figures in them. You have to decide which figure goes in the square with the question mark.

You will see a series of puzzles, with lots of squares arranged in rows and columns. In each puzzle there will be figures in some of the squares, and one of the squares will have a question mark. The game is: You have to work out which figure should go in the square with the question mark. The figures in the other squares of the grid will give you clues.

There is one rule that you have to remember: In each column of squares, only one of each kind of figure can appear. The same rule applies to each row – only one of each kind of figure can be in each row.

Here is an example:

a. ▲	○		X
b. X	X		▲
c. ○		○	◇	X
d. ◇	◇	X	?	▲

This is a grid of squares. It has four rows and four columns. Over the left there are four shapes: a triangle, an X, a circle and a diamond. Only one each of the four shapes can be in each row and each column of squares. Look and see that only one triangle, X, circle and diamond is in each row and column.

In one of the squares there is a question mark. You can work out which shape goes in the square with the question mark by looking at what shapes are in the rows and columns around it. The column already has an X, a triangle and a diamond. The row already has an X, a triangle and a diamond as well. Neither the row nor the column has a circle, so the circle goes in the square with the question mark.

To mark the shape you choose, circle the letter that signifies this shape on the right. For example, circle the letter c in the example.

Answer all of the following questions as accurately and as quickly as possible. If you can't find the answer, skip to the next question.

Good luck!

Attitudes Questionnaire

In the first column of the table below you will find a list of four different groups. How close would you accept to have contact with members of these groups? For each group, look at the statement above each column, and tick the box when you agree with the statement (e.g. "Would accept as class mates").

	Would accept as members of my family (e.g. through marriage).	Would have as close friends.	Would accept as class mate.
Native Israeli Jews (Sabra)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Former Soviet Union Immigrants	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Israeli-Arabs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Ethiopian Immigrants	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Now we ask you to estimate what you think about the following statements regarding the above-mentioned groups. Tick the box in the box that represents best how much you agree with the statement. You can choose from all squares.

In front of you there is another part of the square game. These questions should be answered exactly like the question presented before. To remind you, you have to work out which picture should go in the square with the question mark. The pictures in the other squares of the grid will give you clues.

There is one rule that you have to remember: In each column of squares, only one of each kind of picture can appear. The same rule applies to each row – only one of each kind of picture can be in each row.

To mark the shape you choose, circle the letter that signifies this shape on the right. Answer all the following questions as accurately and as quickly as possible. If you can't find the answer, skip to the next question.

Parents' Values Questionnaire

Dear mother/father,

Hello and thank you for agreeing to take part in this research. We are currently conducting a study at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, in order to find out more about the attitudes and values of adolescents and their families. Part of the study is taking place in schools, and its other part is conducted by questionnaires sent to families around the country. We would be happy if you could dedicate a few moments of your time to assist us in understanding the effect of upbringing on adolescents' values.

For the purpose of participating in the research you should fill in the questionnaire in as well as you can. The questionnaire is about you – there are no "right" or "wrong" answers. The questionnaire's aim will be achieved successfully if you describe yourself as accurately as possible. We want to clarify that you are not obligated to take part in the research. Moreover, if you feel uncomfortable with one or more of the questions, you don't have to answer them. The information will be collected and kept anonymously, and used for the purpose of research only. Therefore, the publication of results will be done in a way that will not allow identifying the respondents. The confidentiality of your answers, as well as the answers of your son/daughter will be kept fully!

If you have any questions regarding the study, we will be happy to reply by phone 200-3409 or e-mail d.schiefer@jacobs-university.de.

Values Questionnaire

In the table at the next page you are to ask yourself: "What is important to ME in various aspects of MY life, and what is less important to me?". This questionnaire presents a list of sentences that describe certain values. Your task is to rate how important each value is for you in various aspects of your life. People differ in the importance of values for them in various aspects of life. Some assign the same importance to all values, regardless of social context, while others differ in the importance they assign to values according to context.

To indicate the level of importance, use the following importance scale:

Very Important to me	Important to me	Somewhat important to me	A little important to me	Not important to me	Not important to me at all
6	5	4	3	2	1

For example, if the value is very important to you, in this context mark 6 in the corresponding box. If the value is not important to you at all, mark 1 in the corresponding box.

Answer the questionnaire according to the aspects significant for you. If one of the aspects is not significant for you, for example if you are not an immigrant from the former Soviet Union, don't answer this column of the questionnaire and sign it by X.

[only Germany]

But note: even if you do not feel you are a German, please try to fill in that column as well. Also, we use the term "Turk" for everyone who comes from Turkey. If you come from Turkey but you do not consider yourself a Turk, please try to fill in that column as well.

Very Important to me	Important to me	Somewhat important to me	A little important to me	Not important to me	Not important to me at all

Values Questionnaire: Please read the instructions carefully before you start

In the following pages you will see that the questionnaires are divided into two sections:

a. The table at the top of the page presents three statements. Tick the box that represents your opinion best. If you agree with the statement strongly, tick the box under the heading "Strongly Agree." If you do not agree with the statement at all, tick the box under the heading "Strongly Disagree". You can also tick the box that is somewhere in between, e.g. when you only agree to some extent. You can choose a square among all squares.

b. In the table at the bottom of the page you are to ask yourself: "What is important to ME in various aspects of MY life, and what is less important to me?". This questionnaire presents a list of sentences that describe certain characteristics. Your task is to rate how important each characteristic is for you in various aspects of your life. Tick the box to the right that shows how important the characteristic is for you.

Follow these instructions in all of the following pages.

Behaviors Questionnaire

In this questionnaire we are interested in common behaviors. The following pages list these behaviors. We would like you to estimate how frequently you have engaged in each behavior during the past 6 months. Think of how often you have engaged in each behavior relative to your opportunities to do so.

For example, consider the behavior described as "Say hello to my neighbours". Estimate how frequently you have said hello to your neighbours relative to the times you have seen your neighbours in the past 6 months.

Please use the following scale:

0	1	2	3	4
Never	Rarely	Sometimes	Frequently	All the Time

0 – I have never engaged in this behavior.

1 – I have engaged in this behavior in about one quarter of the times I had opportunities to do so.

2 – I have engaged in this behavior in about half of the times I had opportunities to do so.

3 – I have engaged in this behavior in more than half of the times I had opportunities to do so.

4 – I have engaged in this behavior every time I had an opportunity to do so.

Tick the box that signifies your estimation best:

	Always	Frequently	Sometimes	Rarely	Never
1. Learn something simply to know more, and not for a test or school work	4	3	2	1	0
2. Rely on what I understood in the lessons, rather than what my classmates understood, as a final basis for answering in a test.	4	3	2	1	0
3. Examine the ideas behind my parents' decisions before following them.	4	3	2	1	0
4. Make my decisions according to my criteria, even if my parents advised differently	4	3	2	1	0
5. Study all day long before an exam even if I have studied consistently throughout the course.	4	3	2	1	0
6. Take on many commitments at school (choose many courses, take roles at group projects)	4	3	2	1	0
7. Tell my family about my successes at school	4	3	2	1	0
8. Argue for my opinion when a family decision needs to be made	4	3	2	1	0
9. Arrive early or on time for classes	4	3	2	1	0
10. Refrain from questioning an exam or project's grade even if I think it is unfair .	4	3	2	1	0
11. Listen to what my parents say without interrupting..	4	3	2	1	0
12. Obey my parents.	4	3	2	1	0
13. Help a classmate with school work (projects, learning for tests)	4	3	2	1	0
14. Rejoice in the successes of my classmates when any of them succeeds in school	4	3	2	1	0
15. Lend things to my family members easily.	4	3	2	1	0
16. Forgive a family member when they have hurt my feelings	4	3	2	1	0

Parents' Values Questionnaire

Dear mother/father,

Hello and thank you for agreeing to take part in this research. We are currently conducting a study at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, in order to find out more about the attitudes and values of adolescents and their families. Part of the study is taking place in schools, and its other part is conducted by questionnaires sent to families around the country. We would be happy if you could dedicate a few moments of your time to assist us in understanding the effect of upbringing on adolescents' values.

For the purpose of participating in the research you should fill in the questionnaire in as well as you can. The questionnaire is about you – there are no "right" or "wrong" answers. The questionnaire's aim will be achieved successfully if you describe yourself as accurately as possible. We want to clarify that you are not obligated to take part in the research. Moreover, if you feel uncomfortable with one or more of the questions, you don't have to answer them. The information will be collected and kept anonymously, and used for the purpose of research only. Therefore, the publication of results will be done in a way that will not allow identifying the respondents. The confidentiality of your answers, as well as the answers of your son/daughter will be kept fully!

If you have any questions regarding the study, we will be happy to reply by phone 200-3409 or e-mail d.schiefer@jacobs-university.de.

Values Questionnaire

In the table at the next page you are to ask yourself: "What is important to ME in various aspects of MY life, and what is less important to me?". This questionnaire presents a list of sentences that describe certain values. Your task is to rate how important each value is for you in various aspects of your life. People differ in the importance of values for them in various aspects of life. Some assign the same importance to all values, regardless of social context, while others differ in the importance they assign to values according to context.

To indicate the level of importance, use the following importance scale:

Very Important to me	Important to me	Somewhat important to me	A little important to me	Not important to me	Not important to me at all
6	5	4	3	2	1

For example, if the value is very important to you, in this context mark 6 in the corresponding box. If the value is not important to you at all, mark 1 in the corresponding box.

Answer the questionnaire according to the aspects significant for you. If one of the aspects is not significant for you, for example if you are not an immigrant from the former Soviet Union, don't answer this column of the questionnaire and sign it by X.

[only Germany]

But note: even if you do not feel you are a German, please try to fill in that column as well. Also, we use the term "Turk" for everyone who comes from Turkey. If you come from Turkey but you do not consider yourself a Turk, please try to fill in that column as well.

Very Important to me	Important to me	Somewhat important to me	A little important to me	Not important to me	Not important to me at all
