In the last European Parliament elections in 2014, the leading candidate in the European political family which had won the most votes was elected President of the European Commission. Europeans could therefore not only vote for who should represent them in the European Parliament, but also take part in the process of electing the President of the European Commission.

QA12 In the next European Parliament elections voters would have this opportunity for the second time. Would this make you more likely to vote than at present?
