ISCO88 - Occupation ISCO 1988

Please give the text of the source question(s) on the respondent's occupation used in your field questionnaire. If ISCO88-codes are not coded directly from the responses, but derived from a country-specific occupation coding scheme, please provide a table of correspondence between country-specific and ISCO88 codes attached as a separate file. Please report which kind of ISCO code you apply. The most common ones are the code developed by the International Labour Organisation (ILO) and the variant developed for the European Union (EU), ISCO-COM. If you apply another variant such as ISCO88-CIS developed by the Statistical Committee of the Commonwealth of Independent States, then please specify.

Please do not enter standard ISCO88 codes here. But please report if your country adds or changes codes compared to ISCO88, if any.

Occupations should be coded on the 4-digit level of ISCO88. Occupational area 0 (Armed Forces occupations) needs some special attention. Since the ISCO variable is numeric, the 4-digit code 0110 will usually appear as 110 in the data file. It is therefore suggested that the only valid 3-digit code in the data file is 110 (Armed Forces).

In some special cases information concerning the occupation may be insufficient for 4-digit coding. Instead of coding these cases as [9998] "inadequately described" use 3-digit coding. In those very special cases where 3-digit coding is applied, fill in a zero for the missing digit. Example: code 131 is coded as 1310.

SPISCO88 – Spouse, partner: occupation ISCO 1988

Please give the text of the source question(s) on the spouse's occupation used in your field questionnaire. If ISCO88-codes are not coded directly from the responses, but derived from a country-specific occupation coding scheme, please provide a table of correspondence between country-specific and ISCO88 codes attached as a separate file. Please report which kind of ISCO code you apply. The most common ones are the code developed by the International Labour Organisation (ILO) and the variant developed for the European Union (EU), ISCO-COM. If you apply another variant such as ISCO88-CIS developed by the Statistical Committee of the Commonwealth of Independent States, then please specify.

Please do not enter standard ISCO88 codes here. But please report if your country adds or changes codes compared to ISCO88, if any.

Occupations should be coded on the 4-digit level of ISCO88. Occupational area 0 (Armed Forces occupations) needs some special attention. Since the ISCO variable is numeric, the 4-digit code 0110 will usually appear as 110 in the data file. It is therefore suggested that the only valid 3-digit code in the data file is 110 (Armed Forces).

In some special cases information concerning the occupation may be insufficient for 4-digit coding. Instead of coding these cases as [9998] "inadequately described" use 3-digit coding. In those very special cases where 3-digit coding is applied, fill in a zero for the missing digit. Example: code 131 is coded as 1310.

Informations about the parties in Switzerland:

Radicals (UNTIL 2009) ==> Right, conservative

This party has been founded in 1894 and grew out of the liberal, radical and democratic movements that dominated the first decades of the federal state. It relies on classical liberalism. It is Swiss largest party in terms of membership.

In January 2009, they merged with the smaller Liberal to form the new party "FDP.The Liberals". Together, they became the party with most members in government. So the former Radical Party does not exist anymore.

Christian democrats ==> Centre-right, conservative

This party has been founded from the conservative Catholics, who lost the short civil war of 1847. But they are currently also present in protestant dominated cantons, with more ecocentric positions. They claim for a social market economy. It is the second largest party in term of membership, but the smallest of the four-party coalition government.

They form a faction with the green liberals, the evangelical people's party and one christian-social at the national parliament, but being the strongest actor in this faction (43 seats out of 51).

This party has been founded in 1888, with the merge of the cantonal workers' parties. It is currently the most pro-european party in Switzerland. They are the fourth party in terms of membership but the second in election and national parliament.

They have their own faction in the national parliament.

Swiss people party ==> Right, conservative

Founded in 1936 from an association of farmers and artisans, this party became more and more populist, especially it's rightwing. They became the strongest party in the 1960s. Since the 1990's, they adopted some anti-foreigner positions from the far-right. They define themselves as opposition party from the right. They are the third party in terms of membership, but attained the highest score in the 2007 elections.

They form their own faction with the alliance of 1 Lega and 1 Federal Democratic Union (out of 68 seats).

Liberal party (UNTIL 2009) ==> Right, conservative

The roots of this party go back to the 19th century, and developed mainly in the french-speaking part of Switzerland. They belong to the smaller parties, but all other current protest parties were founded in the 20th century.

After some years of political alliance, they merged with the much bigger party of the Radicals in January 2009 to form the new party "FDP. The Liberals". Therefore, this party does not exist anymore.

This party has been founded in 1997 on the national level, out of older cantonal groups. As opposed to other Christian parties, they are very liberal on societal issues such as abortion and homosexual partnerships. They share social democratic views on redistribution and have strong environmentalist views. They could be considered as christian left party.

They have alliances with the Christian Democrats and the Green Faction, being split in both factions.

This party was founded in 1944 by the illegal Communist Party of Switzerland.

Alliance with the green faction.

Born from the environmental movement, this party gained strength in the 1980s. It is the strongest party not represented in the executive national government.

They currently have 22 seats out of 24 in the Green faction, along with 1 Christian-Social and 1 Labour Party seat.

Green liberal party ==> Centre, liberal

Founded in 2007, they immediately won a seat in the Council of the states and three in the national council. Since then, they expanded in the cantonal elections. They are the centre-right as opposed to the left-wing Green Party. They want to combine moderate economic liberalism, liberalism on civil liberties and environmental sustainability.

Alliance with the Christian Democrats, being in the same faction at the national level.

Swiss democrats ==> Far right

Founded in 1975 as a split from the Evangelical People's Party. Beyond their social conservatism and christian values, they are eurosceptic and support some anti-foreigner positions.

No more in the national parliament since end 2007 (only one seat in the council of the states).

Federal Democratic Union ==> Far right

The Swiss Democrats lost their only seat in the Parliament with the 2007 elections, but still compete in elections.

Alliance with the Swiss People's Party, being in the same faction at the national level.

Evangelical People's Party ==> Centre

Founded in 1919, this small protestant party stands rather centre-left on some issues (redistribution, education, immigration, environment), but is conservative on others (abortion, family, euthanasia). The economic position is centrist.

Alliance with the Christian Democrats, being in the same faction at the national level.

Lega dei Ticinesi ==> Far right

Founded in 1991, this very populist party was created on the model of the italian Lega Lombarda. It defends national conservative and isolationist positions. It is one of the major parties in the Canton Ticino.

Alliance with the Swiss People's Party, being in the same faction at the national level

FDP.The Liberals (NEW since 2009) ==> Right, conservative;

This party has been founded in January 2009, as a merge of the Radicals and the much smaller Liberal Party. This new party relies on classical liberalism. Together, they became the party with most members in government. It has two members in the Federal Council and 35 seats out of 200 in the national Council.

They have their own faction at the national parliament.

Conservative Democratic Party of Switzerland (NEW since 2008) ==> Centre right

New party, created in November 2008, as a split of the Swiss people's party. The Swiss people party (UDC, SVP) becoming more and more populist, a fraction of this party splitted from it, creating in November 2008 the more moderate party "Conservative Democratic Party of Switzerland". In 2011 it has one Federal Councillor (Eveline Widmer-Schlumpf, elected as SVP-member) and 5 seats out of 200 in the National Council. Its ideology is conservative with an economic liberalism. They have their own faction at the national parliament.

Note	Informations about nationality (1st, 2nd, 3rd) were first convert in ISO 3166-CODE 3 digit (NATION1, NATION2, NATION3). In case of two nationalities, Switzerland was always recoded first on NATION1. The 3 variables were then recoded on a single variable (NATION): - the respondents with two nationalities received some special code (those who are Swiss and have a second nationalities and those who have two nationalities but are not Swiss)

 - only a limited number of individuals have three nationalities and all are Swiss, they were recoded as "Switzerland with a second nationality"

Finally, a code in five digits has been elaborated in order to group some nationalities less represented (first number=continent; second number=geographical region of this continent; the three next digits corresponds to the ISO 3166 digit code of the country)

Detailed information is given for Swiss and adjacent countries. All other nationalities are grouped on the regional level of the continent (as defined by UNO (<http://unstats.un.org/unsd/methods/m49/m49regin.htm#americas>), however not with similar continent and region codes)

The first and the second digit of the 5-digit codes for country are elaborated as following:

Description of Ethnicity variables

Ethnicity is multiform and not a clear concept in Switzerland. Because the debate on ethnicity is closely related to the concepts of peoples or nations, the citizenship seems important to consider in order to complementing the available background variables on religion.
