ISCO88 – Occupation ISCO 1988

Please give the text of the source question(s) on the respondent's occupation used in your field questionnaire. If ISCO88-codes are not coded directly from the responses, but derived from a country-specific occupation coding scheme, please provide a table of correspondence between country-specific and ISCO88 codes attached as a separate file. Please report which kind of ISCO code you apply. The most common ones are the code developed by the International Labour Organisation (ILO) and the variant developed for the European Union (EU), ISCO-COM. If you apply another variant such as ISCO88-CIS developed by the Statistical Committee of the Commonwealth of Independent States, then please specify.

Please do not enter standard ISCO88 codes here. But please report if your country adds or changes codes compared to ISCO88, if any.

Occupations should be coded on the 4-digit level of ISCO88. Occupational area 0 (Armed Forces occupations) needs some special attention. Since the ISCO variable is numeric, the 4-digit code 0110 will usually appear as 110 in the data file. It is therefore suggested that the only valid 3-digit code in the data file is 110 (Armed Forces).

In some special cases information concerning the occupation may be insufficient for 4-digit coding. Instead of coding these cases as [9998] "inadequately described" use 3-digit coding. In those very special cases where 3-digit coding is applied, fill in a zero for the missing digit. Example: code 131 is coded as 1310.

SPISCO88 – Spouse, partner: occupation ISCO 1988

Please give the text of the source question(s) on the spouse's occupation used in your field questionnaire. If ISCO88-codes are not coded directly from the responses, but derived from a country-specific occupation coding scheme, please provide a table of correspondence between country-specific and ISCO88 codes attached as a separate file. Please report which kind of ISCO code you apply. The most common ones are the code developed by the International Labour Organisation (ILO) and the variant developed for the European Union (EU), ISCO-COM. If you apply another variant such as ISCO88-CIS developed by the Statistical Committee of the Commonwealth of Independent States, then please specify.

Please do not enter standard ISCO88 codes here. But please report if your country adds or changes codes compared to ISCO88, if any.

Occupations should be coded on the 4-digit level of ISCO88. Occupational area 0 (Armed Forces occupations) needs some special attention. Since the ISCO variable is numeric, the 4-digit code 0110 will usually appear as 110 in the data file. It is therefore suggested that the only valid 3-digit code in the data file is 110 (Armed Forces).

In some special cases information concerning the occupation may be insufficient for 4-digit coding. Instead of coding these cases as [9998] "inadequately described" use 3-digit coding. In those very special cases where 3-digit coding is applied, fill in a zero for the missing digit. Example: code 131 is coded as 1310.

Please, remember to add to this documentation a report of about a page length, describing which concept(s) for ethnicity you are measuring and why this concept is/these concepts are of special interest in your country.

In the Flemish Region about 6,5% of the people of 18 years or older do not have the Belgian nationality. People living in Belgium with the Belgian nationality have the right to vote in elections (in fact voting is compulsory), have the right to stand for elections, and last but not least, having the Belgian nationality is a prerequisite for statutory jobs in public office. However, due to the 'snel-Belg-wet' (a law, passed in 2000, which under certain conditions give the right to the Belgian nationality) many people obtained the Belgian nationality in the last decennium.

So, only asking the question whether the respondent has the Belgian nationality or not, does not give an adequate picture of the country/place of origin.

To get an idea of the nationality of the parents of the respondent, questions are asked whether the father and the bother have the Belgian nationality from birth.

Based upon those three questions a distinction is made between only two categories:

1) Respondents with the Belgian nationality and parents both born with the Belgian nationality.

2) All other respondents. Further detailed and workable distinctions are not possible due to the limited number.

To give an idea of the distribution of the original questions, some tables:

BE_INC – Country-specific: household income

	National Language	English Translation
Question no. and text	Vraag 102. Ik wil nu iets vragen over het inkomen van uw gezin. Met gezin bedoelen we het huishouden van gehuwde of samenwonende personen, van een alleenstaande of van iemand die nog bij de ouders inwoont. Onder netto maandelijks inkomen verstaan we het totaal van de inkomsten van het gezin, na aftrek van belastingen; alles inbegrepen zoals loon, maaltijdcheques, het eventuele kindergeld, pensioen of andere inkomsten zoals inkomen uit kapitaal, uit onroerende goederen,... Is het gezamenlijk netto maandinkomen van uw gezin groter dan 2.000 euro of 80.000 Belgische frank?	Question 102. Now I want to ask you something about the income of your household. By household we understand the household of married persons or persons living together, a person living alone or someone who still lives with his/her parents. By net monthly income of the household we mean the total sum of the earnings, after tax deduction, everything included such as salaries, meal tickets, child benefits, retirement pay or other incomes from capital or real estates, ... Is the monthly income of your household larger than 2.000 euro OR 80000 Belgian francs?

WEIGHT – Weighting factor

Please report on whether you calculate any weighting variables. If you adjust for non-response bias, please enter the variable(s) on which the sample's distribution(s) is (are) adjusted to the population distribution(s). Please, also report if you apply any kind of rescaling.

Design weight to adjust for unequal selection probabilities	No	[ ]
	Yes	The ISSP-questionnaire is an addition to a general face-to-face survey. In a first step weights were computed for this face-to-face survey. Those weights are a combination of design weights, non-response weights and post stratification weights. The design weights compensate for the oversampling of Brussels and some other rural areas.
Weight to adjust for non-response bias	No	[ ]
	Yes	Non-response weights are then applied to account for unequal probability of response in different subgroups in the population. Age, sex, marital status, type of dwelling, nationality and a geographical classification were used to identify these subgroups. (All these characteristics were known for all sampled units.)
		The non-response weights were then adjusted so that respondent sample matched the population in terms of sex and education (population classification based on Labor Force Survey 2009).
		In a second step these weights were adjusted to compensate for the non-response to the ISSP-part of the survey. We used the following variables of the general survey for this non-response weighting: age, sex, level of education, nationality, professional status, attitude towards surveys and an assessment by the interviewer of the respondent's aversion towards answering survey
