Traineeships are understood as a limited period of work experience and training spent in a business, public body or non-profit institution by students or young graduates. This excludes regular jobs. While traineeships predominantly provide short to medium-term work experience, an apprenticeship is rather a systematic, long-term course of training (lasting on average 3 years) alternating periods in the workplace and in an educational institution or training centre.

Un stage s'entend comme une expérience professionnelle et de formation limitée dans le temps, effectuée par un étudiant ou un jeune diplômé, dans une entreprise, un organisme public ou une organisation à but non lucratif. Il ne s'agit pas d'un emploi. Tandis que le stage permet, pour l'essentiel, d'acquérir une expérience professionnelle de courte ou moyenne durée, l'apprentissage est plutôt une formation de long terme (3 ans en moyenne), organisée pour alterner des périodes sur le lieu de travail et à l'école.

FLASH EUROBAROMETER 378

“The experience of traineeships in the EU”

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

Between the 29th of April and the 18th of May 2013, TNS Political & Social, a consortium created between TNS political & social, TNS UK and TNS opinion, carried out the survey FLASH EUROBAROMETER 378 about “The experience of traineeships in the EU”.

This survey has been requested by the EUROPEAN COMMISSION, Directorate-General for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion. It is a general public survey co-ordinated by the Directorate-General for Communication (“Strategy, Corporate Communication Actions and Eurobarometer” Unit). The FLASH EUROBAROMETER 378 covers the population of the respective nationalities of the European Union Member States, resident in each of the 27 Member States and aged 15 to 35 years old. It was also conducted in Croatia which was a candidate country at the time fieldwork took place. The survey covers the national population of citizens in Croatia as well as the population of citizens of all the European Union Member States that are residents in this country and have a sufficient command of the national language to answer the questionnaire. All interviews were carried using the TNS e-Call center (our centralized CATI system). In every country respondents were called both on fixed lines and mobile phones. The basic sample design applied in all states is multi-stage random (probability). In each household, the respondent was drawn at random following the “last birthday rule”.

TNS has developed its own RDD sample generation capabilities based on using contact telephone numbers from responders to random probability or random location face to face surveys, such as Eurobarometer, as seed numbers. The approach works because the seed number identifies a working block of telephone numbers and reduces the volume of numbers generated that will be ineffective. The seed numbers are stratified by NUTS2 region and urbanisation to approximate a geographically representative sample. From each seed number the required sample of numbers are generated by randomly replacing the last two digits. The sample is then screened against business databases in order to exclude as many of these numbers as possible before going into field. This approach is consistent across all countries.

Readers are reminded that survey results are estimations, the accuracy of which, everything being equal, rests upon the sample size and upon the observed percentage. With samples of about 1,000 interviews, the real percentages vary within the following confidence limits:
